MARCH 27, 2015 FLORIDA HEALTH LITERACY SUMMIT

More than 90 million people in the United States have a hard time understanding and using health information.

Join us for the 2015 Florida Health Literacy Summit. This one-day event will provide a forum for educators, health professionals, and other interested stakeholders to engage in a dialog and share information and resources on how to effectively serve adults and families with low health literacy.

Topics covered will include:

- Key Note – Cynthia Baur, Senior Advisor for Health Literacy, CDC
- Health Literacy: Challenges and Solutions
- Health Literacy in Action: A Nurses Perspective
- Learning to Use the CDC Clear Communication Index
- The Florida Health Literacy Initiative
- Culturally Adapting Health Interventions for Latinos
- Improving Patient Care and Communications: A Hospital Perspective
- Health Literacy and the Affordable Care Act

Registration Fee: $30 (includes lunch and parking)
